Top 5 Scams Targeting Seniors

1 Toll Scams

- Scammers impersonate toll collection agencies and send text messages claiming recipients owe money for unpaid tolls

2 Romance Scams

- Scammers build romantic relationships with victims to gain their trust, then manipulate them into sending money or providing personal information

3 Impersonation Scams

- Scammers pretend to be a trusted individual or organization to deceive and defraud victims. They often use calls, emails, texts, or social media messages that appear to be from a legitimate entity

4 Tech Support Scams

- Scammers trick users into granting remote access to their computers, allowing scammers to steal data, access financial accounts, and potentially install malware

5 Check Washing Scams

- Scammers steal and wash a check, often with common household chemicals, to remove the ink. They can then change the check amount and payee
